VOYAGER CELEBRATING EMIRATES TEAM NEW ZEALAND'S SUCCESS

Voyager New Zealand Maritime Museum is celebrating Emirates Team New Zealand's victory in the Louis Vuitton Trophy Auckland regatta by opening its doors to Aucklanders. For the entire month of April, all Auckland region residents can visit Voyager for free.

Voyager CEO Paul Evans says the recently completed regatta reaffirmed Auckland as one of the world's premier match racing locations.

"Aucklanders have loved seeing world-class sailing action back on the Waitemata Harbour," says Mr Evans.

"That's why we think it's a great opportunity to discover how our region's love-affair with sailing began, including a visit to our stunning new exhibition, Blue Water Black Magic – A Tribute to Sir Peter Blake."

Provided they come with proof of address, Voyager will waive the galleries admission charge for Auckland region residents between 1-30 April. Please note, charges still apply for Voyager Live heritage vessel experiences and education groups, and the free admission is not valid in conjunction with any other.

"Voyager is proudly supported by the ratepayers of Auckland, and April's free admission continues our invitation to Aucklanders to discover how our rich maritime heritage has contributed to the development of Auckland and New Zealand," says Mr Evans.
